Dreams. Though they are intangible they effect us immensely, determining who and what we become. Thus, how our dreams are created is very important. A variety of factors, such as our interests, abilities, environments, and relationships influence what we aspire to be, both professionally and socially. Our interests and abilities are of primary importance to our dreams. If one is not interested in business or capable of solving large mathematical figures, they most likely will not pursue an accounting career. Because they share our interests, our environments are also significant. Our dreams reflect the lifestyles we've experienced whether they be rural or urban; under, middle, or upper-class; loving or non- affectionate. As a large part of our lives, the relationships we form with our friends and family affect our dreams.

1. Good friends Lisa and Candice smile for the camera.
2. Students anxiously prepare for Spirit Week.
3. Seniors Ron Smith and Matt Hansen show their excitement at the Senior Slave Auction.
4. Amador students perform at lunch time.
5. Lunch is always exciting at Amador.
6. Students go wild during the Slave Auction.

2. Shannon Stark designs a layout for the yearbook.
3. Audra Kinkel and Garrett Simmons utilize free time in Yearbook.
4. Sherry Bowen and Matt Hansen practice Improvs for Beginning Drama.
5. Band members add life to Spirit Week.

Before our dreams can materialize we must put in a certain amount of effort. Amador High provides many opportunities for students to receive insight into the career in which they are interested. Among these opportunities are the Regional Occupational Program(ROP), the drama program, Future Farmers of America, the school newspaper and yearbook staffs, and Band.

ROP is designed to allow students to gain valuable job knowledge and experience. It includes class study and on-the-job training and is divided into five distinct areas of study: Medical and Health, Human Services, Construction, Accounting, and Auto Mechanics.

The drama program is for those students interested in the dramatic arts. Activities include Improvs, Solo ACTING, AND PLAY PRODUCTIONS. First year students are placed in Beginning Drama and graduate to Advanced Drama the following year with permission from drama instructor Giles Turner.

Mr. Turne also instructs students who write for the Broadcast, the school newspaper, of which he is advisor. Members of the Broadcast staff learn various things about journalism, including news writing, feature-writing, and headline writing. Students interested in journalism and art also find insight by being on the yearbook staff which is advised by Rand Huggett. Yearbook students gain experience in photography, layout design, and copy writing.

The FFA (Future Farmers of America) is a club that includes students interested in agriculture. It is advised by Ms. Cox.

Band, which includes Concert Band, Jazz Band, and Marching Band, is advised by Hank King. Activities include playing at games, concerts, and other events.

Realize the Dream

Though it doesn't always show, many Amador students are thinking about the future. We asked several of them what their dreams were.

I want to become an architect and run my own business.

Ralph Brown

I want to be rich, happy, and to look like Dylan Paxton.

Sherry Bowen

My dream is to marry Sue Null.

Eddie Marquez

My big dream is to ride a bike in the Tour de France.

Tom Throssel

I plan to enlist in the Air Force while studying Business at Sac State.

Carolyn Byram

I want to be rich and successful with an adventurous lifestyle that will show the world my awesome potential.

Mark Olsen

I- going to be the largest Mercedes-Benz dealer in northern California.

Bud Dean

I dream of attending Stanford and laying on the beach for the rest of my natural life. I don't care if I don't get accepted. I'll transfer. I'll kick, claw, and scratch my way to Stanford. I don't care what any of you say. I'm going to get there. Stanford or bust!

Remembering the Dream

Although it's hard to imagine Amador High teachers were once in high school, too. When asked about their dreams as high school students, they answered with the following.

When I attended Jackson High School, my specific goal was to attend college in order to pursue a professional career. Since I am presently teaching, and a college degree is a prerequisite in this career, at least my goal and the outcome coincided.

Joe Garcia

When I left high school I fully intended to go to college and get a degree in Forestry. Many years and majors passed before I decided that I wanted to be a teacher. There isn't much of a connection between the two jobs—But I fugured out I was a people person. I still enjoy nature and the outdoors.

Richard Kingsmill

When I was in tenth grade my English teacher gave us a special assignment: to predict what would be our careers. I said that I would be a novelist, but that I would also be a teacher because I knew I would have to have a double career since it takes a long time to become a success as a full time writer. My prediction came true, but it took longer to publish than I had hoped. However, I have made it at last and it feels wonderful. New prediction: ten years from now my novels will be read nationwide. Watch my smoke!

Feliz Guthrie

When I was in high school I thought I wanted to become a Spanish teacher. Ironically, I've found that teaching English is just like teaching a foreign language.

SPIRIT

WEEK

Enthusiastic

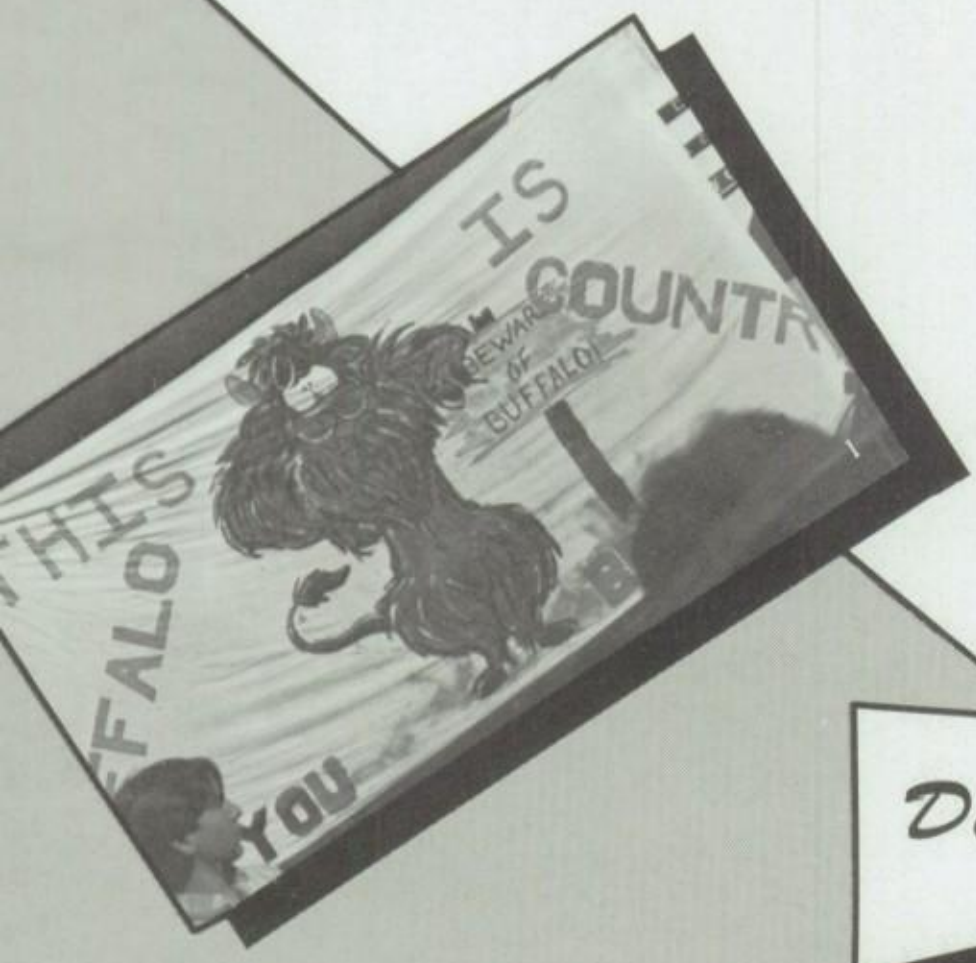
The Thundering Herd's 87" Spirit Week was a success as students came to school dressed in everything from bed sheets to tiger skin rugs. The Spirit Week agenda included "Toga Day," when everyone wore their favorite bed sheet to imitate early Greeks; "Picket Sign Day" brought out the protest in everyone; "Imitate Teacher Day" had students dressing in the likeness of their favorite instructor; "Era Day" was a division of classes into time periods when freshmen dressed like their ancestors of the cavemen time, Sophomores Be-Bopped to the tune of the fifties, Juniors dressed opposite the freshmen in futuristic costumes; plastic bags, colored hairspray, and angel wings. Seniors dressed as hippies: you know, torn clothes, knapsack, frizzy hair, a bandana, and of course the peace sign. Friday, "Blue and White Day" was a success due to everything from painted faces to painted dogs and the popularity of blue jeans. The climax of Spirit Week finally came when the Buffs overpowered the Argonaut Mustangs with a 30-0 score in the Homecoming football contest.



As every year, we had what we call the downtown rally. The spirit and enthusiasm shown in this rally is above all the greatest the studenst show all year. The big game against our crosstown rivals the Argonaut Mustangs, brought out excitment in all of us.

At the downtown rally, class competitions give individuals the chance to show their class and school spirit, and the cheerleaders show their pride by performing spirited routines. For the first time our football team recited a rap which they called "The Amador Shuffle."

The rally was a huge success, as were our teams on the gridiron. Both of these events proved to be a very special part of our school year.

THE DOWN

"This years downtown rally proved to be a huge success. There was a tremendous amount of spirit and energy. For the first time ever our victorious football team performed a rap known as "The Amador Shuffle," it was a strong demonstration of their unity and strength. This rally together with our awesome team, led to the ultimate destruction of the Argonaut Mustangs."

Celebrate Youth!!!

HOME

The "Big Game"—Homecoming '86—was a triumphant success in every way. After an exultant downtown rally, both Amador teams went on to victory over the Argonaut Mustangs, J.V. winning 28 to 8, and Varsity 34 to 0. At halftime, the colorful class floats, each bearing a variation of the homecoming theme "celebrate youth" were all outstanding, with the carousel of mustangs created by the Freshman class taking first place.

The band, led by Drum Major Jennee Boyd, performed its halftime show, and the traditional homecoming crown changed heads once more. Last year's queen, Leslie Wayne, crowned Queen Stephanie Matich, and Dave Dalman traded places with last year's King, Dan Dorris. "It was really neat experience and a surprize and honor to be noticed," Stephanie commented, "It was something I'll never forget."

The Attendants were Freshmen Tom Williams and Shelly Simmons, Shophomores Mike Parker and Mindi McNeil, and Derek Martinez and Jennifer Albro for the Junior class.

Winter Homecoming

Amadors second annual Winter Homecoming proved to be as festive and enjoyable as last year's, with honors bestowed upon deserving individuals from each class. Kari Sanchez and Matt Brayton were voted Queen and King of the festivities with Terri Sue Canale, Lara Sodergran, Matt Hansen and Mark Olsen as the attendants from the Senior Class. Kelli Kraft, Tami Dorraugh, and Steve Klinefelter represented the Junior Class. Wendy Stowers and Rick Lilley from the Sophomore Class, Karen Matich and Ted Loranty from the Freshmen Class were also chosen by their peers.

After an action filled basketball game with Calaveras came a night of dancing and good times with "Music Express" entertaining the partiers for another great Winter Homecoming!

The award-winning Amador Marching Band had another successful year under the leadership of director Hank King. The Amador marching musician participated in the Carson City parade, the Ione Picnic parade, the Sutter Creek Italian Picnic Parade, and the Rio Vista Parade as well as performed for the football halftime shows and Downtown Rally.

Drum Major Jenifer Boyd won First place for her performance in Rio Vista and also received all superiors in Drum Major Summer Camp last summer. "It was very exciting being Drum Major this year," exclaimed Boyd. "It was the best six months of my life at Amador!"

"Even though the Band was a young crowd with many new members, we performed very well in all our performances," concluded Boyd, "especially at the Winter Concert."

CONCERT BAND

The Band this year has had many Surprises. Mr. King returned to teach for one more year and our Senior Drum Major, Jennee Boyd, moved to Sacramento. We also had an extremely young band, with only five Seniors returning. I was very surprised and pleased with the accomplishments we've made. I look forward to the events of next year. To the Amador Band of 1986-87—You've done a great job!

Jeannine Stilz
Drum Major

JAZZ BAND

Lead again this year by director Hank Kin, the Amador Jazz Band was a great success, participating in the Winter and Spring Concerts, and later performing at lunchtime.

"It was an exhilarating and highly educational experience," quoted keyboard player Scott Rollans.

Advanced Drama

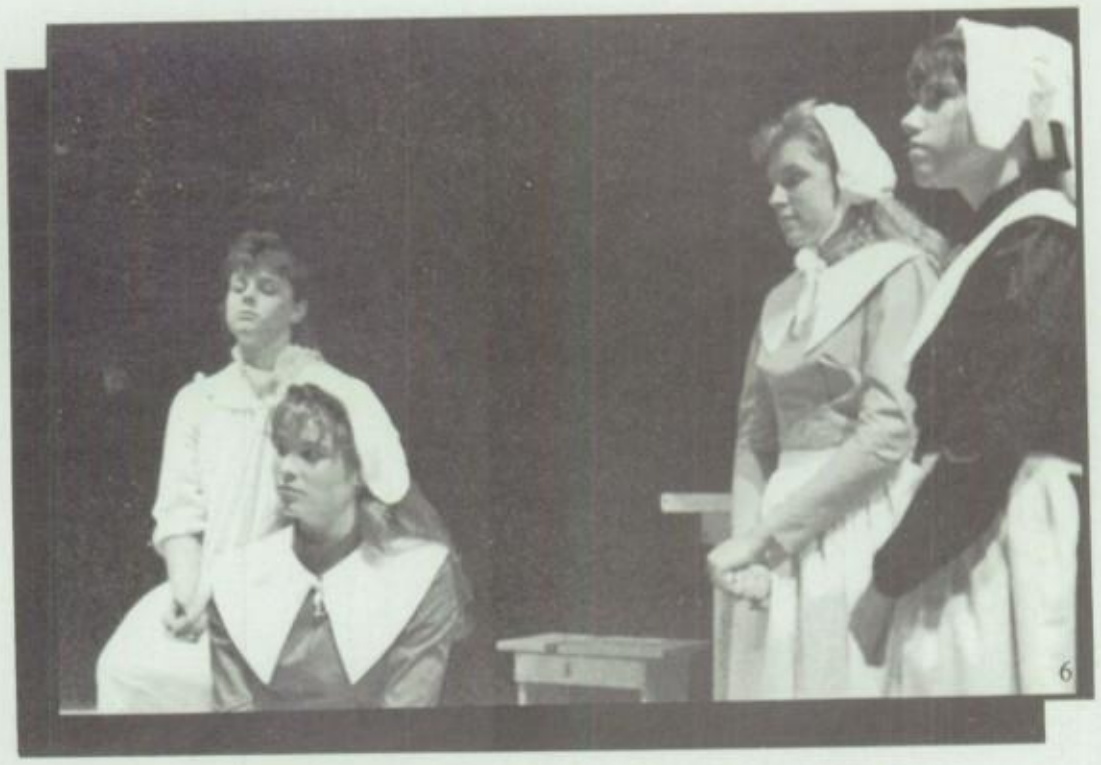
Advanced Drama

This year's Advanced Drama had a very productive year. Usual performances took place, such as "Improvs," a display of spontaneous improvisational skits, "Solo Acting," a collection of solitarily-acted scenes from selected plays, the production of an Arthur Miller play, "The Crucible." Added to the repertoire of performances was the Duo-Acting Competition in February, in which paired drama students performed scenes from selected plays.

The Lenea Drama Festival was another highlight of the year. It took place on February 8 at Sacramento State University. Competing in various competitions with 27 other schools, Amador High Drama took three medals: a gold for Duo Acting (Michelle Hansen and Samantha Lucas), a silver and a bronze for Solo Acting (Lara Lukens and Matt Hansen, respectively).

Drama Club members included Ron Smith, president, Lara Lukens, vice president, Gordon Holmes, treasurer, and Jennifer Albro, secretary.



1. Abagail and Mary (Lara Lukens and Samantha Lucas) try to soothe Betty (Michelle D'Agostini) in the play "The Crucible".

7. Reverend Samuel Parris (Michael Schinaman) and Susanna Walcott (Charolette Miller) showing their acting abilities.
8. Charolette Miller in Arthur Miller's play "The Crucible".

Beginning Drama

Students in Beginning Drama experienced many interesting challenges this year. For many of them it was their first chance to perform in front of a large audience. Their first performance was Improvs, which the students performed for other students. Their biggest performances were of the play "Up the Down Staircase," which played in March. Lead players were Cammie Anooshian and Shelley Loder, alternating as frustrated school teacher Sylvia Barrett, and Chris England as Joe Ferone, the student with whom Miss Barrett is frustrated.

Student Council

Student Council is comprised of officers elected by the Student Body and a representative from each of the clubs and organizations of special interest at Amador High. Their goals are to work for the needs of the students as new situations arise and to promote a communication between the student body and the staff and administration of Amador High School.

Front: Student Body President Justin Dunne. Standing: Mary Halaka, Terri Moore, Jennifer Albro, Kim Gallegus, Valerie Killius, Vice President Matt Brayton, Chad Simmons. Middle row: Renee Hewitt, Janine Loder, Debbie Rodman, Karen Matich, Nicole Bennett, Laura Sherill, Tony Calub, Lara Lukens, Terri Sue Canale, Tanya Bippus, Mike Schiniman, Robert Robertson, Robert Miller, Jennifer Karps, Bud Dean. Back Row: Dan Martz, Secretary Stephanie Matich, Adam Stratton, Mark Olsen, Jason Daniel, Shawn Cash, and Ron Smith.

Student Council this year was different in many ways when compared to past councils. Rather than focusing on how many new events and activities we could create, we centered our main focus on mastering previous events and making them work towards their potential. This can easily be seen by the added prestige of Winter Homecoming, the well-run Fall Homecoming, the higher spirited rallies, the powerful selections of Buffalo Best, and the Hiram Johnson High School exchange. These occurances are what made the Council of 1986-87 a great one!

Justin Dunne
President, Student Body

The experiences gained by obtaining a position of Student Council are overwhelmingly useful. I am positive that my acquired accomplishments will allow me to work well with other individuals. I've really enjoyed being involved with Student Council throughout my high school career.

Stephanie Matich

Back row: Matt Hansen, Todd Migliaccio, Ron Smith, Matt Karr and Greg Holmes.

CSF is comprised of those students who have achieved among the highest grade point average from among specifically designated classes in their academic studies. It is particularly impressive, the amount of Amador's students who consistantly maintain their standing on CSF while also enjoying many other activities of student life.

Academic Decathlon

Seated: Dan Martz, Jason Daniel, Michelle Hansen, Matt Hansen, Tom Harrington. Standing: Robert Robertson, Advisors Lew Robinson and Sandy Beach, and Jeff Harvey.

The Academic Decatheletes had their finest year since Amador High began competing in the prestigious event 3 years ago, garnering a 2nd place finish among all contenders in the regular meet.

Leading the team were Matt Hansen and Jeff Harvey in the Honors catagory, Michelle Hansen and Tom Harrington in the Scholastic level, and Jason Daniel and Robert Robertson in the Varsity level of the competition, and Dan Martz serving as an alternate.

The team was outstanding in the state competition with Michelle Hansen scoring the highest overall points, winning herself a gold medal. Other honors included a silver medal for Matt Hansen and a gold for Tom Harrington in the essay competition.

AFS DENMARK

I will never forget this year, California, or Amador. I am very thankful to all you wonderful people that I have met. A special thanks to Lisa Navarro who was really great. I enjoyed my classes, especially French, careers and Drama. Also I enjoyed being on the Tennis team. Again, I will never forget you. Thank you all so much. GO BUFFS!

Love,
Lone Althoff

SWEDEN

I'd like to thank everyone for being so nice and showing me a fun time during the three months that I could attend school at Amador. I'll never forget my experiences at Amador High School.

Much Love,
Andrea Tegstam
Kungsbaka, Sweden

Junior Statesmen of America

Seated: Hillary Sandro and Danya Coffey. Standing: Advisor Richard Kingsmill, Lisa Sullivan, Libby Miller, Shawna Hedley, Judy Farish, Ann Kovach, Jennifer Albro, Michelle D'Agostini.

Junior Statesmen of America, is a munificent group which had numerous experiences in their political interests this year, including attending Fall State and Spring State, conventions of 'leadership' students from schools around Northern California. Also on the agenda were many politically intellectual lunchtime colloquies.

The members of JSA consist of, President Shawna Hedley, Secretary Jennifer Albro, Vice President Judy Farish, LIO Ann Kovach, Michelle D'Agostini, Hillary Sandry, Debbie Rodman, Cammie Anooshian, John Kobzeff, Sienna McCarron, Tempy McCarron, Lisa Sullivan, Libby Miller, Lisa Navarro, Lara Lukens and Advisor Richard Kingsmill.

Elucidating on JSA's role, President Shawna Hedley related, "We try to promote political awareness in the student body about state and local governments and their agencies."

Students Against Drunk Drivers

Dan Martz at the Amador sponsored SADD Conference.

Students Against Drunk Drivers highlighted their year of informing people of the danger of drinking and driving, by sponsoring a Mother Lode Conference of the issues, inviting the chapters from all the schools in the league. "The conference really went well," responded club Vice President Dan Martz. "We had a very successful year, "continued SADD President Julie Moran. "We'll be working on enlisting more members in the future."

The 15 members worked with advisor Dennis Larson to improve public awareness. Mary Halaka was the club Secretary and Michelle was the Treasurer.

This years ROP Auto had an absolutely stupendous year with the purchase of new machines and tools. They also received numerous donations from various organizations and individuals.

In ROP students learn the fundamentals of a complete auto. The course includes study of frames, suspensions, brakes, engines, axles, and much more. One highlight of the year was the winning of a gold medal by Peter Garibaldi the VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America) competition.

ROP AUTOMOTIVE

CHORUS

Blending their voices in a tapestry of harmony and melody, the members of Chorus had one of their most successful years as a group, with more students participating than ever before. Instructor Brent Woodard directed the group through a fine season of performances, most notably being the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

Olympics Of

The first year of Amador's Olympics of the Mind team competition proved an overwhelming success for it's members and for advisor and science instructor, Gary Sokolis. Two groups tackled 2 uniquely different tasks using creativity, skill and intellect, to solve the problems.

"Chain Reaction" involved creating a domino-like effect using a variety of elements, including mouse traps, a ferris wheel and a motorized car. Their inventiveness won the team 3rd place in the state competition with Janie Loder receiving the 'Ranatra Fusca', or Excellence in Creativity award. "They solved the problems very well and put in a lot of time," stated advisor Sokolis, "If all things had gone as planned, they'd have easily won 1st place."

The Mind

"Decision Structure" members - Advisor Gary Sokolis, Adam Stratton, Mark Olsen, Wendy Stratton, Tony Calub, Angelo Calub.

"Decision Structure", the 2nd team of Amador's "Olympics of the Mind", impressively captured 2nd in the state. Their competition consisted of building a balsa wood structure that would support a greater amount of weight than their competitor's.

"It worked great and was easily the best structure built," said advisor Gary Sokolis, "It held 20 lbs. more than their nearest competitor. Where the winning school pulled ahead of us was in the question and answer section."

On top of placing 2nd in the state, team member Mark Olsen was nominated to receive one of the 3 "Excellence in Creativity" awards, one of which was won by Janine Loder.

Future Farmers . . . . . .

AGRICULTURE

"It was a building year for the FFA," commented club President Pat Brownell," we were busy recruiting new members and planning for our yearly activities and showings. With 30 active members in the Sutter Creek chapter of the Future Farmers, the group, along with advisor John Hawkins, had plenty to plan for, including such events as the Byer Leadership Conference and a trip to the Cow Palace for the Grand National Rodeo.

The FFA, several of who's members have won awards for raising livestock, competed again this year in the Calaveras and Amador County Fair's.

The club officers include President Pat Brownell, Vice President Jim Chapin, Secretary J.J. Hawkins, Treasure Chad Simmons and Sentenial Matt Gianandrea. Other club members are Barry Clark, Jason Wolin, Brian Gianinini, Herb Farnham, Doug Thornburg, Jason Larson, Bill Enyeart, Dan Barns, Chad Bass, Scott Crain, Heather Queen, Kim Ball, Jennifer Walton, Tammy Moore, Eddie Santinelli, Melanie Ficenc, Jason Berry, David Santinelli, Cathy Benic, Tom Baker and Brian Thurston.

Future Homemakers of America and HERO

The purpose of FHA is to provide experiences for members to prepare them for the adult world. Assuming a leadership role in our local organization, I have also set goals to become a regional and state officer and also, in the up-coming year, to increase the membership and create a better understanding of FHA.

In FHA I have met new people and made new friends. A bonus for me is the travel experience in northern California. And this year I will be going to the FHA State meeting in Los Angeles.

2

Realizing the great amount of work required to accomplish our goals for the future, the 1987 SKIP staff created the theme of "Realize the Dream" for this year's book. Dedicating themselves to the hard work needed to complete a yearbook, the staff organized themselves into 'Editor Groups', specializing in specifc sections: the Theme, Student Life, Sports, Classes, Clubs, and Administration.

A new area of the yearbook this year was the addition of a darkroom for developing and processing our own photographs for the book.

Covering such controversal issues as the complete removal of asbestos from the class rooms, dissatisfaction of Senior Portraits by the Seniors, and the late arrival of English text books, the BC of 1986-87 again focused on some hard questions affecting Amador High School.

BC's large staff kept the student populace well informed about the variety of occurances in and around the school, ranging from sports to the Arts to the local campus gossip, in its weekly publication.

"It was a satisfying and rewarding experience working with the staff and learning about each story," commented BC editor Jennifer Karps. Other key staff personel were; Assistant Editor - Carolyn Byrum, Sports Editor - Joe Trassare, Feature writers - Jasen Temp and Kris Schuman, Matt Brayton-YDS, Sheri Bowen - Kfnork File, typists Pam Berry and Jaylyn Olsen, and production by Jeff Ogden.

7. Nicole Bennett, Nicole Seibert, Dawn Pribble (back row) Deana Myers, (Head Cheerleader) Dorraugh, Kari Sanchez
8. Mindi and Barney carrying their spirit to the crowd.

The 1986 Amador Pep Squad had a remarkably successful year. Even with nine new squad members they were triumphant at camp. Each squad won superior trophies with the Song leaders taking home the "hardest working" plaque and the mascots winning "Super Mascots". There was alot of frustration, tears, and hard work that ultimately produced success.

Mrs. Lukens commented "I am very proud of this year's squad". The highlight of this year was the downtown rally which was a huge success.

CHEERLEADERS

'Superior' is a good way to describe this years cheerleading squad! The Squad won a "Superior" trophy at cheerleading camp last summer. "This squad is one of the hardest working squads I've ever had" commented advisor Sherry Lukens. "We had a great time when we were all together at the Varsity game and the crowd was really spirited!" stated head Varsity cheerleader Lisa Birge.

This year the pep squad had it's first male in the group as Ken Sobon was elected by the student body. "Ken made the squad really fun and was a great asset" said Lisa Birge. "It was a pleasure having Ken Sobon on the squad! It would have been nice having him on the squad all four years. He was truly the life of the party!!" commented Mrs. Lukens.

Dominating the field of play with 14 wins for the season and only 2 losses, the Amador Soccer Team won its second League Champion title in 3 years. "We had a fun year but we had to work hard to earn the league title," commented team captain Chris Migliaccio. Migliaccio, Nick Smith and Mike Kirkpatrick each received honors as League MVP's as well.

Coach Dick Heinrich will be loosing 11 seniors from the squad, but 12 players will be returning. "Coach Heinrich is the best coach in the league and our record proves it," exclaimed team member Shawn Cash.

The small but dedicated runners of the 1986 Amador Cross Country Team showed they had the type of attitude that creates quality athletes. Each member of the team was good enough to place high in the league meet, qualifying them for the Sub-Section meet. Lornie Nurse, who placed 3rd in the league, was unable to go on due to an injury. "It was a small team but we had a good time running and working together," commented Nurse. "They had a lot of heart and worked hard at each competition," responded coach Giles Turner.

Other races the Amador distance runners competed in were the Frog Town Invitational, the Jug and Rose Run, the New Chicago Loop, and the Colfax Invitational.

Although we had some problems in the beginning, we learned to put them behind us and work as a team. The coaching of Mary Jo Fox really helped us and made us a strong team in the end. Laura Sherrill and Stephanie Matich were voted the team's Outstanding Players for the season. Also having sophomore Bonnie Burchard move up to the Varsity team really helped us out.

This year the team was filled with controversy. But through it all we stuck together and played to the best of our abilities. We improved our skills and had fun. The team next year will lack Stephanie and I, but I see a championship team with some work next year.

- Sherry Bowen

This year our team went through a lot together. This allowed us to grow in a positive way. Although our record doesn't show our athletic potential, I feel our season was a successful one.

FOOTBALL

The Junior Varsity team did especially well this year. The buffs had a great season, winning every league game and losing only one pre-season game.

The team did great this year. The buffs had a great defense and offense line up this season. They were determined to do their very best this year and they proved to each team they played that they were the best.

The sophomores that will be moving up to varsity will inspire the whole team with their dedication to work and be the best. The Junior Varisty will have more excitement next year with the upcoming freshmen and last year's freshmen that played on J.V's.

The Amador Buffalo fans will surely miss the graduating seniors on the Varsity team. The seniors made their last year the best they could. Some will go on to college and play and some will remember their last playing year with excitement, but none will forget their experiences through the 86 season.

The Herd excelled in their individual effort and determination in any situation whether winning or losing.

Clint Brayton and Angelo Calub were given the chance to prove just how good they were and they did. The two sophomores improved as the year went along and helped the Varsity squad with their season.

The Herd was so enthusiastic that they left the crowds screaming at the top of their lungs and banging the stands.

The upcoming Seniors and Juniors are very spirited and enthusiastic about playing and winning in next years season, which is sure to be filled with excitement.

GOOD LUCK VARSITY!

The Freshman Football team had a fabulous season this year. Most teams have only one memorable game but Amador had two. The first was in Calaveras against the Redskins. The second was in Marysville against the Indians. The Baby Buffs built an excelent record winning six and loosing only two. Team captains Tom Baker and Chuck Martin both agree that the team did very well this year and will be even better next year on J.V.'s.

Coaches Ron Parker, John Thomas and Brian Thomas gave their great knowledge of football which helped the team alot. Coach John Thomas commented, "They are a great bunch of guys, and the team had alot of determination." The coaching staff agreed when the team was behind all they needed was a little coaching and they were back in the game working their great offense and defense plays.

VARSITY WRESTLING

Placing in it's best league finish the 10 years, tying with Bret Harte for 2nd place, the Amador Wrestling Team proved that it has become a power to contend with in the league. The team also captured 3 2nd place trophies from major tournaments.

Team co-captain Dave Castoe won 6 tournament champion titles while scoring a record 29 consecutive season victories. "We had a good year," commented Castoe, "We were a young team and I think they will do good next year."

Team co-captain Mark Olsen 20 pins for the season while heavy-weight wrestler, Ray Estey took honors as both League and Sub-Section Champion. Sophomore Dan Dick and Dave Castoe also won the title of League Champions.

This season we had one of the most outstanding Varsity Wrestling teams in many years. After placing second in the League tournament, most of our varsity squad went on to the Sub Sections and 5 wrestlers qualified for the Section tournament. All of this made it a great winning year and I'm proud to say that this is the best wrestling season that I've had here at Amador. But it couldn't have been this good without the help of 2 great coaches, Coach Huggett and Coach Brownell. Thank you both for all your advice and dedication which helped us grow into the team we are.

JV WRESTLING

With more JV wrestlers on the squad than ever before, the Amador JV wrestlers showed a new strength and determination throughout the Mother Lode league. Team Captain Justin Dunne won the title of Outstanding Wrestler of the team by capturing the league championship in his weight class. Junior Mark Smith also won first in the league in his weight while Jerry Encinas, Steve Klinefelter, Aaron Haugland, Dan Sands and Dan Martz each took seconds, and Shawn Best placed 3rd.

Though not filling each weight class, the JV squad is still growing and building strengt in itself and in the Varsity squad.

The Varsity team had a lot of determination to improve this year, and in their season it showed how much potential the team really had. The girls put all their effort into every game despite their difficult time with the playing season losing and winning two.

The squads defense was impressive. They blocked shots, stole the ball, and rebounded very well. The offense was spectacular. They worked the ball around well until they found an opening to shoot.

The Seniors will be missed on the Varsity team next year. Jeri Fry, Stephanie Matich, Sherrie Bowen, and Heather Burchard added learning technique and fun to the playing season.

"The team has had enthusiasm all season long," commented Tara O'Boyle. "They were willing to learn new plays and have fun while they were doing it."

The Amador Girl's J.V. team had a tremendous season this year. The girls played many hard teams and did very well both defensively and offensively. The squad played very competitively and aggressive and was very entertaining.

The Herds most memorable moment was playing the Summerville Bears at Summerville their last game of the season. The upcoming Juniors will really inspire the Varsity team. "The upcoming sophomores will teach the freshman how to play Basketball on the Junior Varsity team," commented the coach, Joe Garcia. The herd is planning on having a bigger and better winning season next year.

Eight Juniors and five Seniors made up the strength of the Varsity Basketball team in the 1986-87 season. "We had a young team with so many Juniors," stated player Tony Hernandez, "but that will only make us stronger next year. Our defense was really strong at all times."

"The team worked well together & we had a good time playing, but we were plagued by illness all season," related Tim McPartland, "We had a different starting line-up almost every game. But we'll be real strong next year with a lot of returning players and a lot more height."

Team captains Larry Standing and Dave Dalman lead the squad to some strong wins with the team fighting to 2nd place in their own tournament, one of the highlights of the season. "Coach Neville really made us work to get ready for the season," commented Dan Hagyard.

Awards for the season went to, Mark Henderson for the best shooting percentage, Dave Dalman and Larry Standing for Outstanding Offensive and Defensive players respectively, Greg Holmes as Most Improved player and to Tim Walker as the Most Valuable player for the team.

VARSITY TRACK AND FIELD

This year was exciting because of a great boys' varsity team which came back to win their 2nd consecutive MLL championship. The track program was enriched new talent among the freshman boys. They were perhaps more talented as a group than this year's senior boys when they were freshman four years ago.

The girls varsity was strengthened with the addition of new competitions the hurdles, discus, and shot put. The track team had a special fundraiser - a raffle with a trip for two to Hawaii. The team earned over $2,100 and purchased new pole vaulting mats.

It was a peak year for the smooth moving Amador Tennis Team with many team and individual victories on record. Under the guidance of coach Bob Tieslau, and with the advanced court skills of Nick Smith, Adrian Tieslau, Shari Smith and the rest of the team, they put together a memorable and rewarding season.

"We were much improved over last year and I hope we make it to the Sections," stated team captain Nick Smith. "There were some close matches and a lot of hard work to sharpen our skills," said first year tennis player Shanel Callahan. Shari Smith was also team captain for the squad. The team really lived up to it's potential and showed a lot of spirit in their efforts.

Last year was a great season. We were 11 and 2 and won the League Championship. This year we have a lot of talent pitching with Angelo Calub and Floyd Zorrozua, and we have a strong catcher in Mark Truscott. We're very strong, and if we come together as a team we should win another League Championship.

The class of 1987 has a lot of motivation and potential. It has been a pleasure for me to work with Matt, Chris, and Tony; and also other classmates on Senior activities. My four years at AHS have been the best.

Good Luck Class of 87!

Terri Canale
Senior Class Secretary

"This class was great! The core of the class of 1987 was a great crowd to be around. They knew how to make school enjoyable. I'll miss them all . . . Ciao babes! Bye Kids!

Christopher T. Migliaccio
Senior Class Vice President

The class of 1987 has probably been the most dominant class in the history of Amador High School. Led by such athletic scholars as Matt Hansen, Tony Calub, and a few other seniors. The class of 87 has dominated Student Government, athletics, and most importantly academics.

However, the more lasting and enduring qualities of our class manifest themselves in the personalities of the individual members. We are lovers, laughers, fighters, and learners. We strive to be the best we can be by fulfilling our potential. Although we are soon parted, the remnants of our friendships and memories will shape our lives forever.

Matthew S. Hansen
Senior Class President

Anthony A. Calub

Our Senior Year . . . the last year to enjoy all of our class members. Time to grow and plan for our futures.

Our Senior Year . . . our last dances, rallys and games. For many, a time to renew friendships and forget old grudges, and to share and enjoy the times we have together. It's time to remember all the laughs and tears we have shared.

Our Senior Year . . . we will never forget all of the encouragement given to us from teachers and our peers. It's time to thank all those who were kind and helped us through rough times in the past four years. It is time to grow and mature, and to remember youth.

From our senior year . . . there are so many things to remember. The Senior take over nights, Senior Slave Auction, and the Senior Homecoming, all of which proved to be a huge success in showing the pride of the 1987 Senior Class.

Seniors—What are your plans for the future?

For the future, I plan to attend Chico State University, receive my MBA in business, party, enjoy life to the fullest and keep in touch with my fellow "Mavericks".

Larry Standing

I plan on attending a university, possibly UCLA or Chico. I plan on majoring in Psychology and eventually obtaining my PhD. After which I hope to become a clinical psychologist and have my own practice.

Lara Sodergren

I plan to attend the University of Cal Chico, where I will major in business administration and minor in international business. Hey! The best party school for the best partiers, "The Mavericks".

Stuart Ayers

I plan to attend a four year college, obtaining a degree in banking. I plan to travel overseas to work in a foreign branch of a US based bank. I want to be working in the field of off-shore deposits.

Steve Sawyer

I am going to become a nurses aid at Kit Carson Convalescent Hospital.

Rachel Cooper

I am going to take business and administrative coarses, possibly at Solano College. I hope to be buying and selling clothes for a large clothing store.

Lisa Joyner

I plan on attending American River College and major in human services. I plan on living in Sacramento and getting a job working with handicapped individuals.

Shannon Stark

I am going to attend a community college while living with my grandparents in Saratoga.

Janet Froman

I plan on moving down to San Diego. If everything goes right, open up a body fender shop with my brother; or becoming a model.

Don Anderson

I plan on attending UCLA. After I graduate, I'm going to play pro-ball with the San Diego Chargers. I then plan to graduate, and after twelve years, become a national pro and legend.

Dylan Paxton

I would like to attend a community college where I would receive an Associate of Science degree in scientific computer programming. The following year, I would like to transfer to a university where I would hope to attain a Bachelor of Science degree in Astronomy. After I have learned both of these, I should be prepared to enter Astronomical computer programming. From there I may slowly work towards a Masters or may be even as far as a Docterate degree someday.

J. Robert Miller

I'd like to open up a halfway house where mutant cockroaches from all over the world can come and feel safe, retire in massive disgrace, write a huge bestseller, and become the fabulous host of my own talk show. Oh, and to serve my fellow man.

Jennifer Karps

I plan to lead the glamorous life.

Sherry Bowen

I plan to be rich and married to a cowboy.

Dina Sparks

I plan on going into the service. When I get out, I will go to college and get a job.

Brian Palmer

First I am going to Europe to find the meaning of life. I then plan on going to college (and the wild life that goes with it). The idea is to have fun.

Andrea Jackson

I plan on going to Sacramento State on AFROTC scholarship. Then, after I graduate, I want to start my own business.

Carolyn Byram

I plan to go to college for four to six years and get a degree in communications. I'd like to work in TV broadcasting or advertising. if that doesn't work out, I plan to become a lawyer.

Kristine Schuchman

I plan to move to the Bay Area where I've already got a job. In my spare time, I plan on going to a JC and then transferring to a state college.

Shawn Bawden

I plan on attending a state college for two years and then transferring to a university. I aspire to obtain a PhD in Psychology and to work in the psychiatric ward of the university's med center. While I am working on establishing my career, I will also be raising my family with my future husband, Scott Smith.

Julie Salmon

I plan on attending a state university and making the most money possible.

Walter Breese

I plan to travel awhile, (where I hope to find the meaning of life), attend college, then become very wealthy and travel around the globe and enjoy life to the fullest.

JUNIORS

WHAT KIND OF SUPPORT DID YOU AS THE JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS GET FROM THE MEMBERS OF THIS YEARS JUNIOR CLASS?

This years class was very supportive when it came to Prom. Everyone put in their input and helped make Prom the best.

WHAT MADE THIS YEARS JUNIOR CLASS SPECIAL?

As each year goes by, every class pulls together and becomes closer. With each year, the class finds it easier to work together as a team and make each year as much fun as possible. We wish everyone in the class of 88 could come together for our last year together.

IN WHOLE, HOW DID THE JUNIOR CLASS PERFORM THIS YEAR?

Most Juniors have extremely full schedules with only one year of high school left, so when called upon for actual working time on, for instance the homecoming float, projects, it's hard to get a lot done. Everyone did their best to help out on each of our endeavers.

HOW SUPPORTIVE WERE THE JUNIOR CLASS ADVISORS?

Mr. Kingsmill and Mr. Lukens are always very supportive of our class. We thank both of you for all of your time and support. We couldn't do it without you. We wish everyone luck next year and we hope we make our final year together all it could be.

Sophomores '89

This year's Sophomore Class was one of the most active ever, excelling in academics, sports and school activities. As a class they sponsored their annual dance, participated in Homecoming activities, built a Float, created Spirit Week decorations and created a lot of Spirit at each and every rally.

The Sophomore class is also impressive in size, numbering over 190 members, the largest of the 4 classes and one of the biggest classes in many years at Amador High School.

Freshmen - 90

As another year of school comes to an end, the class of 1990 has proudly proven that with sincere motivation they belong with the high achievers of Amador High. Since the beginning of the year the freshmen class has matured, growing in spirit and mind. With this they have earned the respect and admiration of fellow students and faculty. This years freshmen worked hard to raise money to sponsor what was a very successful spring dance. They sold magazine subscriptions, football programs, and had a pizza takeover at Round Table. Much of the success for the class of 1990 can be attributed to the class officers: President Karen Matich, Vice President Debbie Rodman, Secrretary Stacy Martinez, and Treasurer Wendy Stratton. Amador High School students look forward to seeing ALL this years freshmen next year!

Teaching at Amador has allowed me the opportunity to enjoy several memorable experiences with my students. Allowing the 9th graders to mature and enjoy English to the point of teacher/student having complete confidence in each other is very rewarding. My 11th graders have given me new perspective concerning teenagers' likes and dislikes and what is important in their young lives. Obviously, the girl's J.V. Basketball team has provided me with many memorable experiences. They are special and I love coaching my girls. Thank you Amador for allowing me to share in your special world.

School Board Superintendant

The first school year of Amador County's new Superintendant of Schools, Dr. Cliff Tyler, was one that looked to new beginnings, ideas and potential for the county's education system.

Coming to Amador County from the Cutler-Oriosi School District in Tulare County, where he served as school superintendant for 5 years, Dr. Tyler saw this move to Amador County as the challenge of a larger and growing district. "I've really enjoyed the atmosphere of this first year and working with a very supportive Board and the outstanding staff throughout the school district," commented Dr. Tyler, "The attitude of the parents in county and their concern for the best in education is also very encouraging."

Continuing on with the future of the district, Dr. Tyler related, "I see many areas that we are growing and beginning to face the problems of even larger districts; growing student enrollment, the need for new classrooms and the repair of older buildings, and the continual budget balancing to meet all needs."

"We are really happy to be here in Amador and have enjoyed this first year," concluded Dr. Tyler.

AMADOR High School

Each year has it's special events that stand out, showing the successful effort of Amador's students and instructors. There are three particularly rewarding moments this year that I believe are representative of student achievement and high teacher expectations at Amador for which we all need to take pride in.

First, the senior test scores on the CAP identified Amador as a school with students whose achievement level was significantly above the state average. This was an important validation of our quality educational programs.

Second, the state-wide recognition of our Academic Decathlon team was rewarding, specifically, the incredible achievement of Tom Harrington and Michelle Hansen winning first and second place in the state essay writing competition.

Third, the Olympics of the Mind success is an example of academic achievement at Amador. Janine Loder's winning the "Most Creative Thinker" award among the 1,500 competitors was the highlight.

Other rewarding moments involved the spirit of Amador students. The Down Town Rally and parade is a unique representation of school pride. Few student bodies generate this kind of excitement and support for their school.

It has been a rewarding year.

Dan Schutz
Principal

The most rewarding experience I had in the 1986-87 school year was being Freshman Class Advisor. I had wonderful class officers, such as Karen Matich, Wendy Stratton and Stacy Martinez, who made the job twice as rewarding.

Mike Abdollahzadeh
Counselor

Year after year, the most rewarding experience for me is to see the improvement in the Nelson Test scores for our Reading Lab students. Those students actually improve their reading skills after a year of hassling from Mrs. Lukens and me.

Ninette Shearer
Counselor

Secretary & Librarians

Working daily with students, as much as any teacher, the Secretary & Librarians at Amador maintain students on course throughout the school day. Whether getting students to the right classes, setting up counseling appointments, checking on their attendance helping to locate needed study material the library or seeking out various career opportunities, their efforts help students, teachers, and administrators alike, and help to maintain the smooth and steady operation of all areas of Amador High School's working day.

Kris,
Hey there bud,
have a super, great,
awesome summer. I'm glad I got to know you, your a real sweet guy. #1 wish you lots of luck w/ Jenny.
Love Ya,
Who? Colleen

Krissy,
Let's have a killer boring year in Japan, but you made it interesting. Let is be our secret, though, that it was for James we would do it a second time around. See ya next year.
It wasn't for Jenny never been known
Your a sweetheart.
Love ya,
Pad

Dear God,
Sorry for the look in the face
just my way to say I love you Kris I don't really care
better with out the glasses
I'll see you next year
Love ya,
Always,
Tina Abney

(267-0805)

Hey!
Sweets!
I wish this year never had to end because it's been cool!
But, I guess just because it's been cool!
The year is ending, the fun of it doesn't have to.
Ya know that you gotta make plans to see me this summer (whether you like it or not!) Really though, you've been a awesome friend the whole year, and getting better.
no paybacks are needed K?K
Well, bye bye baby!
See ya all the luck in
I wish ya
the world with Jay!
Love ya,
Lexie

Hey, Kris
I hope to see you next year! You are fun to be around
We have a
GREAT summer
Love ya
Squatty
(Carey)

Kris,
Howdy! Well,
you made it through this year, but you really gotta learn how to study! No more
Mrs. Willert from now on! Poor guy,
I'm sure you'll suffer!
See ya!
Love,
Lara

St. John,
Hey there! I'm so sorry to be going
I'm gonna miss ya so much. I'm glad we got to be partners this year.
You're cool, I suppose (JK)
Anyway,
Love ya
Steven
I promise to write you okay, but you've got to promise to write me to.

Kris
Jim glad we met. Jim sorry I can't write more but class
is over & we'll be late.
Love,
Sweetcheeks Gillett

Hey cutie (I think)
(Just kidding)
Well anyway I think you're cutest and funniest that I've met. I'm glad we've become friends & I hope you have a wonderful (Bies) summer.

St. John,
You're a very special guy! Even though you are such a "dude"
I love you! (Friendship wise)
I will, before I get to mushy. Have a real summer
Don't you ever change!
I'll kill you!
Your lovely sis (Ha!)
Your sis,
Lisa!

St. John,
You are a sweetheart! I am really glad to know
you. See ya,
Jenni Berry

Well, its finally the end. How sad :(. You have absolutely no idea how much I am going to miss you. What am I supposed to without you for 1½ months. You know, by the time you get back, I'll probably have written you a dozen poems. OH well, I hope I live. ½ I guess I'll call Whop if I need someone to talk to, or I'll write you a letter. How's that? I'm really sorry about Tamara. I should have known that you don't like her anymore. How stupid can I be. Right? Right!!! I don't know why I don't like Tamara, its probably because of the way she acts around guys. I would call her a tease, but I should talk. I was exactly like her last year. I got called a tease all the time. OH well, things have changed, Now I'm just a flirt. ½ Enough about your ex. Lets talk about mine. Don't get all puffy, I was only joking.

Jess just called and read me that letter, its super sweet. I swear, I have never been so spoiled before, not even by my parents. So if I spoil you & you spoil me, we can spoil our little boy. HaHa. No seriously I really don't want a kid, they take up to much time. I want to party to much. OH well. What a bummer. Wouldn't life be tough. I can picture us, living in a very expensive house, with 10 cars in the driveway and us having all these fancy parties at least 4 times a week. What do ya say? Sounds like fun ho. Well this is one thing I think I know, its were going to be together for a long time.

Jess let me read what you wrote in her yearbook. You know, I owe her a pay back too. your not the only one who gives pay backs. HA HA. you know, I've started on my payback. She met Chucky [sp?] didn't she. :/ Well my hand is starting to get tired, I better go. there's one more thing I have to say, thanks for starting to straighten up. It means a lot tome. Stay out of trouble while your gone. Say yes mom. :/ Don't flirt to much!!! Can't forget, I Love you!!! I'll be thinken of you constantly

I Love ya, 4-ever +always
Jake

P.S. Remember the last line of this poem. I just wrote it a few min. ago.

P.S.S. Remember, our love is to strong for anyone or anything to break it.

If I was alone without you.

Hey Rays,
wow now we years have gone by
and most have kids
Raegan yet or Santa or anyone. I don't know well so I'm going to make this short. You are going to have to party lots. Oh that you still do party. Gosh I've only known you twelve years and I forgot who your a cool "kid" and I stress "kid" fashion. Your a cool aunt so does Queta trusted love you and I love her. (your Linda mom) ok not still love her. I said before hi. I better and now I'm a full fledged Junior are; treasure Nurse nce. Ok you have most finished dude.
to drive no
th from ethin'

on I let cut this short mom and tell her
ok. You and you are a Sophomore cause they happen
over to my summer like all rats to house it's like after I start
now. get to your parents to drive two more well I best pops now this short letter I mean (now) is my

Chris,
Hey! You shoulda stayed in French - it got really boring after you left! You're a terrific guy - I'm happy we met. See ya next year!
Love ya,
Natalie

Hi, St John!
I think you're great; (you're kind of a pain,) but I guess that's okay!
See ya next year!
Your Bud, Shari
